Ad Literas m'as Regiae intelligend' vestre Dominationes, quare m'as sua non Deputet nunc Dominos ad Con--ventum, quem Domina Dux constituit, Vult enim Eius m'as, ut Conventus ipse transponatur ad tempus aliud, quo m'as sua commode, isthuc m'as m'as possit pro-
-ut id libenter facere vult, ut quam equi-
-tus et Decentius fieri potest, motus iste et Dissensio non satis Decora componat, Expectabunt itaque vestre Domination--es, a quo animo Conventum ipsum, et tempus ad quod instituetur. Ego vero quid quid aliud, pro commodo et placito earum facere potero, id libenter faciam.
Duc valeat' feliciter —

The first thing I did was to go down to the river and see what was going on.
 I found the water very muddy and the fish
 were all dead.
 I went to the mill
 and saw the miller
 who told me that the water was very muddy and
 the fish were
 all dead.
 I went to the mill and saw
 the miller who
 told me that
 the water was
 very muddy and
 the fish were
 all dead.
 I went to the
 mill and saw
 the miller who
 told me that
 the water was
 very muddy and
 the fish were
 all dead.
